

PETER BRONSON @ STONEGATE

Peter Bronson is one of the Southwest's best-known tennis players and coaches. He has played at the top levels of tennis for over fifty years and been teaching tennis for over fifty years. Peter was a member of the first Testing and Classification Committee of the United States Professional Tennis Association and is currently certified as Elite-Professional.

As a player, Peter was undefeated in singles in college and since then has been in 74 National Tennis Finals, winning 36. Peter was chosen 21 times to represent the United States against International Competition throughout the world.

As a coach, Peter has been a high school and college coach and taught all levels of play from beginner to World Class Player. At one time, he had four players ranked in the top 100 of the ATP Men's Rankings including such well-known players as Tim and Tom Gullikson. Peter was inducted into the USTA Central Arizona Hall of Fame in 2010.

Peter enjoys the thrill of introducing the game to beginners and watching their amazement and joy as they progress from the initial challenge of just hitting the ball to rallying and eventually playing the game with purpose. Equally enjoyable is the satisfaction of taking seasoned players and tweaking their strokes or strategy so they continue to improve.
